GRAMMAR SUPPLEMENT: THIS THAT THESE THOSE

Grammar: Prepositions of Place

We use prepositions of place to describe where people and things are.

Examples:

A: Where's my backpack?
B: It's under the chair.

A: Where is Claudio?
B: He's in the bathroom.

In the Homework section, you'll find online exercises to practice prepositions of place. You can also find explanations and more practice exercises in: Murphy, R. (2015). Essential Grammar in Use. A self-study reference and practice book for elementary-level learners of English. 4th ed. Cambridge University Press. [pp. 222-229]

Listening 2

1. Before listening. What can you see in the picture?
2. Listen to a student talking about where he studies. Does he describe the desk in the picture?
3. Listen again and circle the things that he has on and around his desk.

books	a bulletin board	a lamp	a computer
notebooks	a printer	pictures	a mirror paper

Speaking

1. Tell your partner about where you study. Describe where things are and if the space is organized.

Listening 3

1. María José left her backpack in a classroom. She calls the information desk to ask if anyone saw it. Listen to their conversation. Did anyone find it?
2. Listen again and answer the following questions. Check your answers with the transcript below.
 - a) What question does the receptionist ask at the beginning of the conversation?

- b) How does María José say who she is and why she's calling?

.....

- c) The receptionist asks another question, what is it? Why does she ask this question?

.....

- d) How do they finish their telephone conversation?

.....

Speaking

1. Work with a partner. Roleplay a telephone conversation. Use the previous transcript as a model.
 - Student A: You left something at the university.
 - Student B: You are the receptionist.
2. Change roles and do the telephone conversation again.

Final Lesson Task: Show & Tell

1. In pairs take turns to describe the things in your bag.

· Student A: Put some of the things from your bag on the desk.

- This is
- These are ...

· Student B: Ask student A about the things on the desk.

- What's this? / What are these?
- What's that? / What are those?

Transcripts

LISTENING 1 - TRANSCRIPT

A: Is that your backpack?

B: Yes, it is. It's new. I love it!

A: I really like it. I need to get a new one. This one is too small for all of the things that I have to carry.

B: Really? What's in your bag?

A: I always bring my laptop so that I can take notes and study. I also have these headphones, which are really big.

B: What's this?

A: That's what I use as a pencil case. Maybe I should get a new, smaller one.

B: And that?

A: That's my lunch bag. I always bring food, so I don't get hungry. And this is my water bottle.

B: Wow, you do have a lot of stuff!

LISTENING 2 - TRANSCRIPT

I study in my bedroom. There is a desk in the corner and on the desk I have a computer, a lamp, and a cup with pens and pencils. There is a bulletin board on the wall where I put some pictures, my weekly schedule, and other important things. Next to the table I have a bookshelf, where I keep my books and notebooks. I try to keep my desk organized, but sometimes when I'm really busy it gets messy.

LISTENING 3 - TRANSCRIPT

María José: Hello. Is this the information desk?

Receptionist: Yes, it is. How can I help you?

María José: My name is María José and I'm a student. I'm calling because I left my backpack in one of the classrooms today. It's really important because my laptop is in it. I don't know what I will do without my laptop!

Receptionist: Which classroom?

María José: I think it's room 315. It's a red backpack.

Receptionist: Let me check. Can you hold?

María José: Yes, of course.

Receptionist: Hello María José?

María José: Yes?

Receptionist: Someone found a backpack. Can you tell me what's inside your backpack?

María José: Hmmm let's see....my lunch bag, a pencil case, a wallet, a blue water bottle, headphones, and of course my laptop.

Receptionist: Good news, it's your lucky day! This is your backpack.

María José: Great! Can I come pick it up now?

Receptionist: Well, the office is closing in a few minutes. You can come and get it tomorrow. The office opens at 8:30.

María José: OK, thank you. I'll be there at that time.

Receptionist: Alright, see you tomorrow morning.

María Jose: See you, bye.

Receptionist: bye, bye.
